GameStop Corp. (GME) closed out Monday up nearly 31% at $123.14, a significant bump from its open at $97.11.

GME is held by 104 ETFs, which together own a total of 6.7 million shares.

The ETFs with the most GameStop Corp exposure include—not surprisingly, given it is probably the original meme stock—the Roundhill Meme ETF (MEME), with a weighting of 3.60% followed by the Defiance Digital Revolution ETF (NFTZ), with a weighting of 3.06%. The SoFi Social 50 ETF (SFYF) has a 3.05% weighting to the stock.
