

Title: Requested Chase reregister my GME shares to transfer agent. Now they are in Computershare as "investments held elsewhere" under the symbol GS2C.XFRA

I searched reddit and don't see anyone else with this problem. It seems that GS2C.XFRA is how GME is traded on the European stock exchange, but is without voting rights. Are these directly registered? The way they are listed doesn't look like it. What do I do now? By the way I am in the US, but those shares are quoted in Euros. The ones I bought directly from Computershare are listed as Holdings and quoted in dollars.
