Good morning, boys and girls. I requested DRS transfer of my GME shares from Schwab to Computershare on 6/13, and they have yet to leave my Schwab portfolio. I was wondering if anybody else has had this experience? I've been messaging everyday, and they continue to push the 5-7 business days. On today's interaction, they gave me a number for the asset transfer team to call for myself. With the long weekend, it'll most likely be further delayed. The anxiety is peaking everyday, since this didn't happen at all the first time I transferred (that time, it only took 4 days and went seamlessly). All help appreciated - thanks in advance!
