We are expecting good performance GME the following days (unless the shorts pull some bs) but we hold whatever happens. Most probably they will try to get us to sell early by shorting hard again like they usually do, the only thing left for us to do is BUY & HODL & DRS till the end, till Melvin capital gets sold to Wendy's and till the shorts run out of money and have to pay the rest of the debt with handjob.

As for myself, I bought more today before it jumped up and I'm going to buy more tomorrow. The ramen is on the line, let's fucking go.
