First of all, shoutouts to all the fantastic dd-writers/researchers/Peer Reviewers and so on!! Since day one, and most importantly during the lows like the recent one, you're doing a fantastic job to show us that the price is fake.

But to be honest, when things get as complicated as they sometimes are in life, my favourite solutions are the most simple ones. And therefore my favourite source of Zen is the most simple calculation:

-The current GME float is 38.461.350

Superstonk alone owns it completely for itself If everyone held just 54 shares.

...But ToMMY, ThE bOtS aND sHIIIs... Yes i Know, theres no way to calculate this accurately- but what about every investor who isnt on superstonk or even in Reddit (yes they exist!)?

Stay Zen guys, the price cant be real. If the Basic Math is still in, I'm still in.
