Cannot crosspost to sub for rules, BUT i really think theres a lots of info in u/3_Midgets_In_A_Coat post from today in another sub.

The start of his post.

*TLDR: The Citadel investment funds for employees that I previously mentioned and can basically make any trades they want and co-mingle funds with past employees has to file holding reports! And on them we see not only the SPACs (916 results when searching for the first half of "Acquisition" as the previously mentioned warrants and calls that would be required to actually carry out this "strategy of collateral generation."***
