Gamestop, movie, and Target Hospitality?

Looking at the charts TH whipsawed around the same time GME and movie. These three stocks all halted around the same time too...

If, as the Benzinga article suggests, TH halted a minute before GME (and 2 before movie) it seems to me we should be shining our ape lights at Target Hospitality. Correlation may not equal causation but it stretches credulity to assume this is just a coincidence.

So what does Target Hospitality do? According to their website a bunch of shit:

So why did their stock move and halt along with our favorite stock at around 9:36am yesterday morning? Those with wrinklier brains than mine should investigate. There might be something here.

I can't post on SS as I don't meet the criteria, but if anyone wants to share there feel free. I'm not looking for reddit fame points, I just want some wrinkly brained eyes on TH.
