Sup Apes!

Started reading and researching NFTs to keep me occupied before we take off to the moon, thinking about creating a small collection soon. Anyways, I've been thinking about how this is going to be the future of consumerism and ownership. Like you all, I've been trying to think about how GameStop is going to use their platform. I think they're going to create the social media of NFT and digital possessions. Think about it. All social media apps today give users the opportunity to share what is important to them, what they own, how they feel, etc. Showcasing your NFT portfolio and the different type of art you own/care for tell others who you are and what you stand for. The most popular use of NFTs are digital art, but in the future, I see them having different uses. For example, the NFT Steph Curry bought has stats and is part of a collection that is going to have an online basketball tournament! Super excited for GameStop's future!
