All you apes preach about how, after moon, you will pay your dues to society via taxes. You all lambust the greed of the elite and sound outrage at their tax avoidance scheming. That won't be you after moon. Money won't corrupt your decision making.

Then show it now. Bite the bullet.

It's easy to give money when you win the lottery. It's easy to give $1 million to world when you have billions. But it's take strength and courage to give when you have nothing.

If every share held in an IRA/ISA was DRS'd, we would lock the float, maybe a number of times over. It would be game over for SHF. No more shares to borrow. The fraud would be undeniable. It would be moon.

If you DRS your IRA/ISA held stock, you will loose your tax benefit, but you would guarantee moon. Would you rather have 100% of $10000 or 85% of $1000000?

Let's lock the float before the next quarter.

PS. Didn't Ryan cohen tweet about taxes a few days ago?

PPS. Mods, why don't you add 'DRS' to the list of words required in the original post?
