Hey, I have recently gotten myself into NFTs. I'm not into the auto-generated avatar stuff, I'm more into developing interactive assets.

For a long time I had stayed away from NFTs, but recently a friend brought it up and it lead me falling down a rabbit hole, I find the technology behind NFTs interesting, and how a decentralised receipting system is a step forward in the future of digital receipts (and somehow physical (from what iv heard, I don't know enough about this to confirm if it's a thing)).

In my time learning about NFTs I have learnt about ERC1155 tokens, IPFS and writing smart contracts;

My friend told me that GME are releasing an NFT marketplace soon, I can't find much information on it other than an application to the platform

I have a few questions;

1. I have been learning to upload NFTs to the Opensea marketplace to do my testing, will the metadata format be the same or similar on the GME NFT Marketplace?
2. Any news on when it will be releasing? Even for applicants?
3. My application sucked because at the time I applied without an NFT portfolio with my work, reckon I could re-apply?

Gracias
