My father works for ATT and he was holding shares for me in a custodial account on **computershare**

I transferred to fidel to sell ATT and buy GameStop. Computer share has fees so to make the most i moves them To my brokerage.

It only took 2 days to transfer shares from CS to infidelity, for those worries about selling on CS when the time comes.

I know people will read the title and get turned off to my post but I feel like it's good to know: 2 days to get shares from CS into your brokerage.
