Man this week was crazy and GME seemed like the only stock in the green, then last night got an alert on crypto just tanking!! Like every single coin had the exact same ticker!! I know Shitadel is trying to get into Crypto is this their opening play?? Or are all the major players pulling out their crypto funds to provide liquidity for their market positions? Not to many wrinkles on my brain but plenty of tinfoil thoughts bouncing around about why and what it could mean for this week!! Anyone seen any legit explanation for why it dumped so hard??
