Yesterday, after the big drop in all markets, I rewatched The Big Short and wondered how I could reconnect the Bear Stearns and Leman stock crash with Gamestop's impending short squeeze3.

We are at the moment where we are seeing the entire collapse of all the markets and as the media can no longer ignore this event, they will try to contain it, but it is the theory of the ball and the pool, the more you sink the ball, the more force you have to exert to keep it down, imagine having all the apes doing DRS and maintaining every day for more than 1 year and a half, the pressure that we are exerting, at the moment in which one of the people who keeps his hand on the ball fails, the domino moment will begin and they will not be able to keep it exploding towards the outer space anymore.

I just want to thank each of the apes that are here maintaining each day, the exhaustion at which we maintain ourselves is incredible and will be studied in history books, just as in 1789 with the French revolution we changed eras towards the contemporary age, now we will go to what we will call the decentralized age.

Shot out to all of you, it's a pleasure keeping this boat afloat! prepare for boarding my pirates!
