Last year RC tweeted about the gme cycle on 1/17 that there was a chance. This was leap day failure and he saw that the oi for 2022 didn't jump up, meaning they weren't rolling over their options bets used to cover the 3 billion ftd's from 2020, the most recorded in one day.

Then on 2/24 he tweets the LEAPS fail to deliver.

My prediction is that he may tweet the same events again, which would be 1/21 and 3/2, but unlikely given the perceived microscope of market manipulation.

I do believe that he has continued his poop and peepee tweets. Poop means it's going down. Penis or related (masturbating bears) means market is going up due to covering.

RC has been on point with his poop and peepee tweets. Watch for the upcoming peepee tweet. It may be the last one.
