Hear me out. I have recently decided to take it upon myself to post the Buy:Sell ratio orders and man oh man has it been getting people talking. I like it. Here's the thing, I am not going to hate on day traders or swing traders for making money. You do you boo boo.

In all honesty I wish I was that smart. See I am a simple ape. I want to own the precious.... golem, golem. Give me my purple rings one by god damn one.

So I DRS my shit. Yes It can be "harder" to sell but at least I know that shit is mine and no one can borrow it. (Insert you guys still have money meme?)

If I was as smart as some of you apes or more like DFV I too might be in the options pool.

Who knows there might some guys that use options to create more cash to buy more directly or even DRS them. I don't know. I don't know how to play the game at that level but I do like to show up to practice. I like to read, I like to listen, I like to learn and I am learning.

Did you know that the first quarterly report where GameStop states the amount of shares directly own is around 5 mil. The second one had us around 8-9 mil. It looks like we were @12.1 mil at the end of the last quarter if you go off of www.computershared.net . That's an average of 3-4mil quarter.

Yes the price is going up so it will be harder to buy. Moon landing Seems to be coming together so maybe none of this will matter but what I know to be true is that we have some minnows DRSD, some whales DRSD and everyone in between. The number of Computershare accounts is up to 157,400.

Here is what I want to end with. Based off of Dr. T's work and also dudes like Wes Christian and our all star cast of allies RC, DFV, Lauer, Pulte, Cuban, Payne, etc. etc. etc. We have an opportunity as individuals investors to send a message based on how we invest. We can teach the next generation of kids and investors and that will make us legendary.

Insert what did you do dad to make us rich meme. I took my shit from corrupt institutions and didn't give them any back until they changed shit so you wouldn't get unknowingly screwed in your IRA or Pension or 401k kid.

Child: Fucking Legend

Fuck you DTCC can't regulate yourself then you can't hold my shit. The end and goodnight.
