Apes I say this as a March 21' holder, with 1XX, and even some bath options (mirroring ryan cohen of course), but bills/inflation is high.

I've been fighting insurance tooth and nail after my cancer treatments, but I've got an 38k bill now in collections. Top that off with my even greater private student loan debt, and in August my smaller federal student loan payments resuming I'm feeling the pressure. Plus my rent went up by $500 this month.

Not here for charity, I just ask you DRS your shit faster because I'm just tired. I am fatigued because of cancer, but I'd rather go to the grave then sell at this point. It's just getting stressful. I'm tired of getting up at 4am to work for amazon.
