I've suspected for a short while that the MOASS will launch on 3/22, as opposed to 2/22. 3 is the 2nd prime, and we know the controllers love primes and will substitute them for their corresponding number. This means all the hinting at number 2 with the constant shit emojis and poo references may in fact be referring to March instead.

Today is also 2/16 which is a satanic date,  $6 \times 6 \times 6 = 216$ , and the jolly roger flag tweeted today suggests 322 is the real meaning behind the message.

The GMERICA Trademark deadline for filings is also 2/23, another 322. I believe their earnings for Q4 2021 must also be filed by 3/22.

Further, creator applications for the NFT marketplace must be finalised by 2/21 which would leave about a month to check through the content and ready the marketplace.

I know there are a lot more allusions to 322 but I just had to get this out there first to get it off my head.

Is RC taunting the parasitic elites with these references? Or is he the bad guy with a nice smile gaining our trust to establish his new world order metaverse hellhole for future generations?
