

Title: Is it ironic their last accounts due was for the period up until December 31st 2020? The next one for the year 2021 is due on September 30th in 20 days. Did they hide losses in the Europe branch?

Author: PtahandSuns

Created 2022-09-09 05:38:55 UTC

Permalink: /r/GME/comments/x9n35g/is_it_ironic_their_last_accounts_due_was_for_the/

Url: <https://www.reddit.com/gallery/x9n35g>

Financials

Net Assets, Total Assets &amp; Total Liabilities (2009 - 2020)

Year Ended
Dec 2020

Total Assets

£597.41m +£157.09m (+35.68%)
vs previous year

Total Liabilities

£-1.87m +£167.45m (+98.9%)
vs previous year

Net Assets

£595.54m +£324.54m (+119.76%)
vs previous year

Cash in Bank

£99.61m -£100.64m (-50.26%)
vs previous year

- ⌚ No changes occurred since incorporation

Accounts

Due Soon

- ⌚ Last accounts submitted for period 31 December 2020 (1 year 8 months ago)
- ⌚ Accounts type was Full Accounts
- ⌚ Next accounts dated 31 December 2021
- ⌚ Due by 30 September 2022 (20 days remaining)