Most of y'all are probably aware of the 741 theories and memes going on for like the last year. If GME is roughly $140 at the time of the split, that puts their price at $20 a share after the split. And MSM has been drilling boomers brains with a price range of what? like $20-40 since the sneeze?

And any bets on boomers flooding in once it drops to $20-$40 because that's the price they know and associate w gme?

If they do this shit it's gotta be at least 69% 5D and 96% troll idk math is hard
