Greetings!

This is a request for people who use Fidelity and have access to Fidelity's "Borrowable/Borrowed Shares" number. The other day it increased by an insane amount, up to at least 4 million shares.

Is the number today still the same, or has it changed?

Can someone check the number and post it?

If it hasn't changed, perhaps no big dip.

If it updated to a number lower than 4M, then a considerable dip is pretty much on the table.

If it changed by more than 2M, a mother of all dips might also be on the table

Thank you, whoever may help!
