Hey All! Long time holder of GME here and I'm seeking some advice. I'm based in the UK and until now have the majority of my holding of GME in my Trading 212 (T212) ISA account. Recently, I've acquired some additional shares via Interactive Brokers (IBKR) with the intention of DRS'ing them with CS.

After doing some further research, it looks like the eventual forms etc that will be required to sell via CS and get the funds back will be a pain as well as a potential for 2 x Tax Bills.

My Trading 212 ISA refreshes tomorrow and I was wondering what is best. Sell via IBKR and rebuy via my T212 ISA or is the only safest way to DRS? I've attached some pictures showing my conversation with T212 Support who've stated there won't be any restrictions etc but I'd like to get some detailed advice from more wrinkled apes.
