We need to focus on the stock. There are too many posts linking the WEF through BCG to GME. Apart from the fact that the connection to the WEF is highly speculative, any mention of the WEF will bring doubt in the heads of people that are aware of Qanon and other conspiracy theories. There is no need to involve them AT ALL.

Every conspiracy theory supposedly leads to the WEF while there is no substantial proof of them having any power at all. The posts pushing this topic have many awards and provide no proof. All the talk of WEF will lead to people who want the fight into thinking this is just another conspiracy theory.
