Predicting the future once more

Estimated Dividend announcement, record and payment dates based on past GME data.

Let's play: Who can predict the future dividend date stuff! Yay!

Scenario 1

1. ATM 5 mil share offering tomorrow 10 June.
2. Dividend announcement on Friday 11 June
3. Dividend record date 25 or 28 June
4. Dividend payment 19 - 22

Scenario 2

1. Dividend announcement on Friday 11 June
2. Dividend record date 25 or 28 June
3. Dividend payment 19 - 22

Insert ATM offering of 5 million shares somewhere above.

Calling the above from now (Not really, called it 2 months ago in my last DDs but ok)

Event Flow 1+1 = 2 (Potato) | The SEC/RC setup a honeypot and the sus took it.

>ATM offering for 3.5 million GME shares

(■° ■■ ■°) I know what's up.

Turn the business around, give no reason to be a target of predatory naked shorting or synthetic dilution by killing all debt. Re-introduce the possibility of dividends intentionally or as a side-effect.

tldr: RC intentionally puts out 3.5 mil shares for the obvious reasons, but also to serve as a marker/indicator on what happens when 3.5 mil shares hit the market and what their effect are on the price. This is because FINRA/SEC are checking this shit.

How do i know they're checking it? GME 8k under "Other Information" or check further below for the full quote.

(■° ■■■ ■°) I know what's up.

RC makes sure NO new shares make it out in the market. NO dilution. This will help the SEC later by making it easier and cleaner to see that there's fuckery going on. No new shares = no shares to be used to short with... so where are those new shares coming from?

>On May 26, 2021, we received a request from the Staff of the SEC for the voluntary production of documents and information concerning a SEC investigation into the trading activity in our securities and the securities of other companies. We are in the process of reviewing the request and producing the requested documents and intend to cooperate fully with the SEC Staff regarding this matter. This inquiry is not expected to adversely impact us. (■° ■■■ ■°)

(■° ■■■ ■°) I know what's up.

SEC actually been investigating GME for a while. Finally spoke to GME themselves for information and documents likely in order to verify their official shares outstanding. The documents produced were the documents showing no insiders sold for the past several months.

Sec wants these documents partially to verify that the float has not increased and that GME insiders are truly holding and not exercising their options and throwing those shares in the market and thus be playing a game with their shareholders.

The sec wants these documents also to verify that GME is not shitting out shares to hegges, banks, MM's or others. They want proof and verification that no new official shares are being printed because they know a market participant is diluting GME's float one way or another (Synthetics or Naked).

tldr: The SEC is gathering HARD proof that GME and Ryan didn't dilute no nothing and that someone is shitting synthetics or naked shares out of their bum. "Buckle Up"

>Goldman Sucks Group Inc., BOFA Deez Nutz., ShitigroupInc. and Jefferies Financial Group Inc. are among firms that have adjusted their risk controls at prime-brokerage operations, according to people familiar with the moves. The banks are trying to protect themselves against fallout from extreme surges and dips that have characterized trading in companies including "That popcorn stock", some wallstreetbets stock. and GameStop Corp.

(■° ■■■ ■°) I know what's up.

The SEC is playing the game of "Process of Elimination". Try to disable shorts from being executed by the above prime brokers, banks.

They announced this last Friday and let it simmer over the weekend. They then set up a honey pot this week that the GME mega shorter can't resist let's say like... running up the price to $350. The run-up was in my opinion a natural occurrence called "FTD Cycles" and here's my model that predicted that the 8'th would've been an FTD reset cycle day. Incidentally here's my perfect FTD Reset Cycle analysis that predicts the future. Doesn't follow the typical T+21 T+35 everyone is using.

The SEC and GME is aware of the cycles because they used this as bait. I'll bet my left testicle that the SEC and RC laughed their ass off when they saw that big dip from $350 to $290 and i bet my right testicle that they have crystal clean clear L2/L3 or whatever tapes and data and can now sit and analyze them and figure out what kind of entity could do such a short. (HFT and/or MM).

This is what RC mean't by buckle up. They're about to find the insane bastard who keeps on coming back for more pain. They'll need time so "Buckle Up".

TLDR

Surely if shorting is disabled on all these big Prime Brokers and Banks, GME's price won't drop if it does an insane run-up to $350... but no someone is still able to short. So the SEC can now discount Goldman Sucks, BOFA deez nutz, ShitiGroup and Jefferies as the culprits and move on to the next phase of the investigation which i can't speculate on what it could be. It remains to be seen what it will involve.

Fluff

I'm laughing that the mega shorter took the $350 bait and couldn't resist shorting it. It was as clear as day. Those order tapes are going to show what happened CLEAR AS DAY.

I used to work as a software tester and if i had to reproduce a bug, i'd make sure to reproduce it PERFECTLY with the LEAST amount of clicks and junk in between actions, hence the perfect reproduction of the bug. These guys did the same on the 8'th. They perfectly and cleanly reproduced the "bug" per say. SEC and Finra are going to have a field day over this easy to read data lmao.

Solve this puzzle and unveil what's going on in RRP's or not...

Also here's a theory i can't verify that perhaps one of you would like to verify... regarding reverse repos that could almost be considered proof of bank collusion with HFT/MM's. Solve it and maybe we have our answer.

Here's the theory.

The MSM's made articles on the 4'th of June that Goldman Sucks, BOFA deez nutz, ShitiGroup and Jefferies had disabled shorting.

Did nearly or exactly 1-4 RRP (Reverse Repo Participants) disappear from the overnight Reverse Repo Participant member list anywhere between the 26'th of May (when the sec announced it spoke to GME directly) and the 4'th or 7'th?

If 1 up to 4 participants disappeared or exactly 4 participants disappeared on a certain day onwards consistently, then i suspect that these 4 banks were willingly or unknowingly complicit in an MM's naked shorting or synthetic dilution or engaged in a much more complex Reverse Repo SWAP for collateralized security obligations (Repackaged naked shorts) and that both banks and the MM are definitely using the FED's RRP as a piggy bank of extra daily margin & their shitty activities.

Do your homework and post your solution in the comments please.

^(Also:)

^(Hegges are fuc lemao. Stocks only move if there's buying/selling/shorting. Announcing earnings doesn't somehow magically affect the price. Someone has to see the earnings report and think: "Hmmm, dis be bad company, better short it" and then the price moves. Did you really think that an earnings report somehow magically moves the price? lmao.)

^(Apes aren't selling. This is just another one of them fancy attacks. Buckle up cause shit's bout to get rough, for the hegges. Here's your entry point if you thought you missed the train at $250. Thank you Kenny!!)

^(hodl and watch the price go up endlessly. Also RRP's gonna get +4 billion tomorrow and then +11 - 15 billion tomorrow and it will be the result/effect of today's mega short. Notice how every time there's a mega short, than in the next 2 days, the RRP increases a little the first day and a LOT the second day after that.)

^(Hegges Are Fuc.)

Also where's my SR-DTC-2021-005. No reply to my FOIA by the SEC yet. I take that as a good sign that they're busy examining GME stuff. Hopefully not watching porn again...

Honorary mention to u/buttfarm69 who owes me a blowie because he said so in a comment that if i had predicted the FTD reset cycles perfectly, he'd give me a blowie... so.... where's my blowie Buttfarm69?
