Since I can't sleep due to me being jacked to the tits as markets are about to open once again in about 8 hours, I've been staring at the Bitcoin chart since it's been falling like a knife.

Since the start of 2021, all the Bitcoin major run downs has been followed by a GME run up (spike) 6 out of 6 times. I REPEAT, 6 OUT OF 6 TIMES!!!

See dates below. (Feel free to check the charts if you want to confirm)

Bitcoin run downs:

Jan 8 to 11,

Jan 19 to 20,

Feb 20 to 22,

March 19 to 23,

April 14 to 23,

May 10 to May 11

GME run ups:

Jan 12 to 14,

Jan 21 to 27,

Feb 23 to 24,

March 24 to 25,

April 24 to 28,

May 12 to May 13

Check the Bitcoin graph and there's another major Bitcoin run down going on now...

May 13 to today (May 16) is approximately -14% run down of Bitcoin. If history will repeat itself as per the last 6 data points, this week could be massive for GME.

BUY, HOLD, VOTE! Not a financial advice. ■■■■■■

EDIT: For those asking for charts, I'm too smooth brained to make an overlay atm but check out this similar DD from a month ago which talked about the occurrence happening 4 out of 4 times (DD posted 28 days ago). What changed as of today is we've now seen it happen 6 out of 6 times and this week could be the 7th time!

EDIT 2 (2 hours after May 17 market open): It seems like GME is reacting well (+7% as of now) and going up again after yet another recent BTC run down. Is it safe to say we're 7 out of 7 now? Are they correlated? As DFV said, "what the hell do we know?"
