My question is once GME Uranus occurs and I sell on a broker for 100 million, what do I do immediately? I assume I have to wait 2 settlement days before moving the money, but what next? Hope the broker doesn't collapse in the meantime before i wire transfer the funds to my bank or credit union? And hope the bank doesn't collapse too?

Or if I sell on Computershare, do I just have them hold onto the check for a few days? Then cash it in and pray my bank doesn't go kaput?

Crazy thought, I'm thinking of immediately overpaying my taxes so that come next year Uncle Sam will give me a hefty refund, and in return he watches my money for a few months while the financial system collapses.

What is the best thing to do? I'm talking hours.
