Is there still time to DRS shares of GME directly through ComputerShare before the dividend cut-off? I have been steadily buying a share every month through the service. I bought my share on the 1st this month and I'm guessing the batch didn't go through until the 7th because of the U.S. July 4th holiday. Do you guys think if I put a buy in over the weekend that purchase will go through prior to the dividend cut-off date, which I have read either here or the other sub is July 21st?
