So I've been driving uber for the past 7 months after market close to add to my positions. and from time to time I get people from citadel in my car and I usually just snarl at them and smirk. Thinking about my gme and now amc gains but today per the latest price action and the fact he was going to and not from I decided to ask some questions.....

Surprisingly he wasn't the dick head I thought he was gonna be and he actually said he felt good about the little guys getting a w, but he couldn't speak on naked short positions or the threshold list or he'll face legal consequences(he didn't laugh deny or downplay it his tone actually got more serious)... tho he did say he was called in urgently to work at 8pm■..

After a little dancing around and acting like i never invested a day in my life. He BASICALLY said he's going in for a briefing of all meme stocks financials mentions and sentiment on Reddit and across all social media.

So if you ever needed a confirmation to know that we're retarded not stupid...everything we do and say is being watched and accounted for this is it..

When we're in disarray in these chats they smell blood in the water and they try to use their algorithms machines against us with bots and shills to add the cherry on top.

Let's keep the morale up even on red days who gives a fuck if we see a hundred "who bought more posts" and memes they do too and they have sort through the shit just like we do even more so cuz we can just click a DD flair they have to read it all..ape no fight other ape United we stand divided you know the rest.. they need to know we're more retarded then ever!!and WERE NOT FUCKING LEAVING!!
