

Title: The MOASS Trigger RC has been hinting at... possibly...

Author: MacJac13

Created 2022-02-06 21:42:24 UTC

Permalink: /r/DDintoGME/comments/sm8gek/the_moass_trigger_rc_has_been_hinting_at_possibly/

Url: https://www.reddit.com/r/DDintoGME/comments/sm8gek/the_moass_trigger_rc_has_been_hinting_at_possibly/

As any GME hodlr who has been paying any attention at all to the various speculative theories knows, Ryan Cohen has been tweeting things “backwards”. But what does it mean, this backwards stuff? Well maybe it's not backwards, but reverse. And maybe what he's hinting at is a Reverse Stock Split. Why would a reverse stock split trigger the moass? Well according to Wikipedia, unlike in a regular stock split where people just get a multiple of the shares they already have, in a reverse stock split hodlrs old shares are erased and withdrawn from the exchange and brand spanking new shares are created in their place.

It seems to me that a reverse stock split could be the easiest, simplest way to trigger the moass. It also fits in perfectly with the speculation about LRC helping to create a new exchange as the old shares will be withdrawn from the nyse automatically in a reverse stock split. And it's backwards / reverse. Which could be a thing that's not actually tinfoil. God tier DD or fanciful speculation?