

Title: Anyone else find it interesting that today, when OATS is disabled and CATS is not enabled, and the CFTC stops doing their job, all heavily shorted stocks are being crushed?

Look at them, so many tickers that have high short interest are being obliterated today beyond reason. It doesn't make any sense from a logical point of view.

Where is all this selling pressure coming from? Where are all these shares coming from? If the system was legitimate then none of this makes any sense

Edit: aight so I was wrong about OATS and CATS, but still, the CFTC announces they're gonna go play golf for the rest of the year and magically we see insane share counts to the downside out of nowhere? Huge market sells over and over on all shorted stocks?
