All this bullshit that goes on in the market needs to stop. Gensler and the SEC is asking for the public opinion? This needs to be the response. How come the Wall Street Journal can drop an article with no company specific confirmation that leads to an increase in security price after hours, WHEN RETAIL CANT EVEN FUCKING TRADE, but when the company itself confirms the news, the price falls? That is fraudulent price movement. GameStop confirmed the partnerships, confirmed the marketplace and yet the price falls. The WSJ makes an assumption and the price goes crazy. The stock market is bullshit and the game is over. Time to seal the deal. Power to the players.
