Surely we can find 9 ape converts to buy 10% of GME. RC owns 10%. Blackrock owns 10%. We just need a few heavy hitters that believe in the thesis? How hasn't this been done before? Bloomberg Terminal would have to report 100% ownership, right? We theorize that apes own the float several times over, but would it be impossible to force the float lockup? Why hasn't this been done yet? Surely that's a guaranteed trip to the moon for any owner of 5-10%
