

Title: An honest discussion about WTF is going on with GME

Author: Daza786

Created 2022-09-01 09:19:13 UTC

Permalink: /r/DDintoGME/comments/x32xag/an_honest_discussion_about_wtf_is_going_on_with/

Url: https://www.reddit.com/r/DDintoGME/comments/x32xag/an_honest_discussion_about_wtf_is_going_on_with/

I hope this is the correct place to post this, I know on SS i'd be downvoted to oblivion by the echo chamber.

I have around £30k invested in to GME, pre split average was around 120. Initially it was a big YOLO, go big or go boom kind of thing. Got in just after Jan 21, I had the utmost faith in RC and his vision for saving the company blah blah.

Now, I have to be honest and say I'm losing faith as every day goes by. All the marketplace hype has, in my opinion been a huge let down, sure it's in Beta right now, but I did not invest in to GME because of fucking monkey pictures. I'm sorry to say all the "art" is shit. I had huge expectations of real world NFT utility, not JPEG's a bunch of idiots think are "collectible".

To put it simply, i'm fed up, as an investor I want to feel valued by the company i'm invested in. A prime example being Gamestop investor relations, from day one they have been garbage, i've sent so many emails and never received a reply, with such a loyal group of shareholders you're telling me they couldn't spend some money on making their IR team a bit better? GME hasn't provided any real pointers as to WTF they are actually doing in terms of saving the company, and i've spent the last year on SS eating up all the conspiracies about how they're going to reposition themselves as the next Amazon....yeh fucking right. Remember when they were going to be the next big thing in E Sports? RC and his cryptic bullshit tweets are in my opinion, him playing the crowd, he knows the apes (where did this cringe terminology come from anyway?) will swallow anything he does blindly, (unfortunately I was also one of those who fell for the BBBY rug pull) so he deliberately posts shit that gets people riled up to keep the hype going.

Not to mention, the cult followers of GME (that I admit I was very much a part of until recently) and the whole fighting wallst BULLSHIT....I don't give a flying fuck about Ken Griffith or the DTCC/SEC crimes, a bunch of people on the internet are not going to win against the system, I made an investment to make money, nothing else.

I'm fed up, to put it politely, and seriously considering pulling out when/if I break even. I could be enjoying that 30k right now. Is there any good news about GME as a company that can change my mind?