

Title: Why I feel GameStop or RC Ventures will acquire $BBBY as a whole or just Buy Buy Baby (How I interpreted Papa Cohen's purple heart tweet)

I don't believe Ryan Cohen's purple heart tweet on August 10th was a wounded in battle reference as much as it was pointing to companies coming together.

If we decide to look back a bit on Ryan Cohen's tweet history we can see on June 12th and June 13th he sent 2 tweets on what at the time appeared to be about politics.

I however believe this to be foreshadowing about what was going to end up happening when he sold his shares in Towelee. I think the single purple.heart tweet was pointing to the earlier tweet about stop dividing people. GME is now and has always been the play. "The Stop dividing the people" reference is in regards to bringing together the "People's" companies they are backing right now with many investors trying to hold both companies until we moon.

All the way back on January 1st 2020 RC tweeted about the excitement of making money to grow a company

I think this was the mentality he had buying his stake in $BBBY and bringing in 3 members on the board who specialize in Mergers and Acquisitions

25 Days later RC tweeted an article from Forbes on how he took on Amazon with Chewy

We see another retweet from CNBC making reference to GameStop taking on Amazon although I don't think they realized the scope of how RC was going to try to take on Amazon. He is planning to go head to head with them on many more fronts besides just gaming

Jumping forward we see his "Talk is cheap" tweet

Which to me lead to a story about John Pavlish's father and Jack London about building walls, bridges, connecting people and how you won't ever get what you want for free.

This mindset to me points to the price RC is paying right now with the FUD, the blame game and being a target for every single mainstream media outlet trying to attack his character.

As I continued on reading through Papa Bear's tweet history I found myself trying to understand on a level my retarded bartender brain comprehend what the meaning of his MGGA tweet on October 31st 2021 was about I came across this very small snippet on a dictionary site about that acronym

<https://preview.redd.it/tkxwp5y2k4j91.png?width=382&format;=png&auto;=webp&s;=a7d915cc4cf7b9bd3a61d734b54ba53c1c359522>

6th down it says MGGA would have an ongoing revenue stream from Web sites in other states -- without the headache of having to build and maintain the sites ourselves. I read this as having many more distribution centers and diversity of products by incorporating either Towelee as a whole or even just Buy Buy Baby.

I got down this rabbit hole from RC's tweet on November 15th written backwards

<https://preview.redd.it/zedymduvk4j91.png?width=602&format;=png&auto;=webp&s;=a8e33f45ce9b1bf316ae9e2abf66d37256081f9e>

I took this as a cue to start from the end and work my way to the start. So I did just that and started at the bottom of his tweet history and tried to work my way up understanding a roadmap of how we are where we are.

His tweet about being cooler online to me is saying blatantly that he is going to go head to head with the rainforest and this whole thing is just another brink in the wall.

I am all the way retarded! For fucks sake I decided to be a live long bartender instead of using any of the degrees I have so that just proves how retarded I am. I wrote the majority of this while I was drunk after work last night and finished it up hung over today. I may be completely wrong but this is my hopium and you can't take it from me.

Power to the Players - Together we stand divided we fall. I love ya apes and everything about these communities that have formed up around all of this wild shit.

Have a great night I'm going to drink away this hang over and get ready for battle in the morning!!! We ride at dawn!
