

Title: The cycle continues. The only way anything gets done is if we take things into our own hands. The elite have lost respect for the people. They think we won't do anything. Time to prove them wrong.

The truth is, we know that they will do anything to prevent simply paying up. We know government bodies collude with hedge funds, the fed, and central banks to do whatever works best for them. They don't even look at us as people, but as numbers. They just try to get as much GDP out of people as possible with no regard for how it is done. GME has done everything right, and still look what has happened.

We have seen just how egregiously unfair the market is. They have shown us in their desperation that it is nothing more than a mechanism to farm off of the poor and middle class. Essentially our whole system can be reduced down to this simple principle.

We have been told not to talk about politics, about economics because it is too divisive. Who benefits from such a taboo? In the American Revolution, it was all put together by people talking in taverns about, yes, politics.

The elites have no respect for the working class. They think we are too pathetic to take any real action. Well time to prove them wrong and go on offense. We don't need violence, only organization and solidarity.

Sign this, share this, make it go viral. Together we have so much power. It is time to exercise our legal right to amend a government that does not benefit the people. Time to take things into our own hands and give this movement some backbone, some teeth: <https://docs.google.com/forms/d/1699DZLw3IDxmXKbURnMRX9SIKRMceeGuMRCwaLXY0FY>
