Something is definitely happening

I work in the financial services sector and have access to the borrow rate of prime brokers.

Without mentioning any company names, the GME borrow rate has stayed around 3-5% for months (this is independent of the retail borrow rate) and in the past few days has risen approx 1% a day

Yesterday was approx 6.5% Today is 7.48%

Availability of shares had a notional value and now it says LIMITED borrow.

Will keep a close eye and update daily if anything changes.

The walls are closing in.
