

Title: If I placed limit sell orders through Computershare for $2,000,000 would that negate any of the shf $1.00 buy orders?

What I understand is that shf use low dollar buy orders to keep the price down, never actually intended to be filled. Would it counter them if I do a daily limit order for as high as CS allows?

It wouldn't get filled, they aren't buying for that high yet. And since CS deals directly with the NYSE, the orders are out of reach and can't be used for their fuckery.

Please let me know if I'm wasting my time and helping them in some way.
