There is alot of info out there on IRAs but literally none on 401k's. I believe ther are a lot of Ameriapes like me with lots of GME in 401k's

What I've found through my research is that it's all stuck there with really no options to direct register. This is mainly due to still being employed at the company where the 401k is provided and not having the ability to complete an in-service distribution or in-kind transfer out, it's just not allowed. Also, active 401ks cannot be rolled over to IRAs and subsequently DRSD through excellent DD already out there.

I've even tried to withdraw the roth contributions in order to buy direct from CS, but even ROTH contribution withdrawals aren't allowed from my plan (but they may be in yours if you're interested).

Has anyone been able to crack this problem (without quitting).
