Let the computer bring the price down so we can get another discount. Stop fighting the price because we already won. Let the price go down so all the Apes that have less than xxx shares, can buy some more to become xxx share holders. We want all the apes to have a minimum of 100 shares. A few weeks ago when the price got below $100, we did not want to miss that discount. Now that we are immune to being under $100, $95-$88 don't seem like a discount anymore. We want to see a intraday low of $65 and high of $84. Tax refund is going to hit our accounts soon. Take a break and let the ladder attack machine do it's thing. Most of us will get our tax return the first week of February. We can get a good juicy discount of around $50 if we hold off on buying. We should get the date the transparency policy starts. But until then, let it drop. I have family members that want to buy more. A lot of people want to buy 10 more shares but they can't because they don't have enough money but as the price drops without us having to sell is a true blessing. As the they drop the price for us we can get this last 10 or 20 shares from the tax return money that we are going to get in about a week or so. I don't post much. I'm not a shill. GME gang gang !!!
