I came across the following Twitter thread of Fintels page:

https://twitter.com/fintel_io/status/1477094634652254210?t=EMtBUqKHHti4LLRZtLoXrg&s;=19

It seems that popcorn had a very similar occurrence of incorrect reporting as GME did with the whole Fidelity incident.

These 'mistakes' seem to be happening pretty frequently for the so called 'meme' stocks.

I find the whole fintel twitter thread very interesting because to me they are basically 'we just report what we are given.' Legalese for we didn't do anything illegal or nefarious when shit hits the fan...
