Kenny boy ■ ( Mayo Force 1 N302AL ) has left Ivalo Airport in Inari Finland sometime at about 12:00 PM - Sunday 1/6/22 and landed in Stansted International Airport outside of downtown London at about 2:45 PM - 1/6/22 He stay on the ground briefly ( Maybe to refuel ) and is currently over the St George's Channel approaching Ireland at 40,000 feet - 382 knots as 3:40 PM EST.

In the meantime our new mystery jet ( N68KP ) that flew from Teterborow Airport in New Jersey straight to Ivalo Airport and parked side by side for the last two days with Mayo Force 1 on the tarmac has taken off too from Ivalo Airport at about the same time and is currently over Northern Canada at 40,000 feet - 382 knots as of Sunday 1/6/22 - 4:00 PM EST.

As pretty as the famous Northern Lights are I'm sure Kenny boy and company did not fly all that way for just that.

Nothing new to say about Mayo Force 2 ( N421AL ) other than it has not moved all weekend and is still sitting at Midway International Airport in downtown Chicago.

As a side note Mayo Force 3 ( N512QS ) after flying to random cities all weekend is currently heading north from Georgia and is off the coast of New Jersey at 24,000 feet and descending as of 1/6/22 - 4:10 PM EST. Wood be interesting if it landed at Teterborow Airport in New Jersey but not unusual. Maybe something may nothing ?

Edit: Mayo Force 3 is not headed for Teterborow Airport as it is heading northeast over Long Island towards the Hamptons as of 4:20 PM EST at 12,000 feet and descending. Would be interesting if our mystery jet ( N68KP and Mayo Force 1 N302AL ) lands there too !

Edit : False alarm, Mayo Force 3 just turn northwest and is heading towards Connecticut.

Edit: Mayo Force 3 is just changed course due West over Connecticut and appears to be heading descending towards Westchester Airport in New York on the CT boarder next to Greenwich and Stamford Connecticut as of 4:00 PM EST 1/6/22. Ummm doesn't Thomas Peterffy live there ? Now that would be real interesting if Mayo Force 1 and our mystery jet lands there too ? LOL !
GME to the moon ■ !

Check back later for I will update as more information becomes available.
