Nope. I did extensive testing this week and spoke to a CS rep.

You ACTUALLY can go above 999,999.00 but they verify via 2 factor authentication and my browser wasn't accepting the code properly (I think it's because I'm using Brave browser - they forwarded the details to their tech team)

The 999,999.00 overall limit before 2 factor authentication is per ORDER by the way not by SHARE

For 2 factor authentication orders the max OVERALL sell order value cannot exceed 9,999,99.00. This can be a fractional share, allowing you to get per share prices above 100mil if you want to go that direction.

At any rate, I wanted to get my entry orders straight so I knew the limitations
