I had a post removed that asked if SoFi was mentioned in any of the DD? Why would a question be removed? I understand the sub is wary of shills but asking questions is not allowed? This is fucked I thought we were about discussion and finding information not suppressing it

Your post was removed as it wasn't relevant to GME. If you can find relevance and connect it, you are welcome to post about it. We remove many posts of tickers that are not GME every day.

Ok well i was specifically asking if someone had made a link. FYI SoFi trading has been halted for almost an hour after someone leaked supposed earnings early. Smells like fuckery to me.
