Guys,

You do realize we have the majority of the float locked with 125k apes? Think about it for a minute and let that sink in. The masses can paperhand. I know that the apes who DRS will hold the line. There are millions of share holders, float oversold several times and the ones I trust most have their GME in computershare with me. Not to mention how many shares that have to be in IRAs and 401ks.

Eat well because this night the hedgies are gonna dine in Hades! er tomorrow, or something like that!
