So I have $1,000 saved and I have $15,000 in student loans. Would you make a large payment toward the loan or buy more GME shares? Currently I own 7.3 moon tickets

I know that $1,000 out of $15,000 is not a lot but its a psychological thing to start paying off some of my school loans and stop paying interest. These are private loans. I thought I was being responsible by refinancing, but thats another discussion for another day. So what would you do?
