So question is was the split looking back good for gme or not? Can anybody tell me what we gained or what we lost? I'm just wondering being smooth I'm not seeing the benefit? If somebody can help me understand how it helped would be great? Like I said I'm smooth brain but I felt like we were closer covering the float then we are now? I know everybody is way smarter than me that made this decision and hopefully I speak for others when asking this question
