Allow me to begin by stating that I'm a literal idiot so please forgive me if the reason is obvious. I noticed that across every single ticker that I have checked today at approx 3:20EST each began an ascent in price that lasted more or less until EOD. Why did each ticker experience the same thing today (Heavy decline followed by an incline starting at 3:20pm EST) ? Again, please remember that I am a literal idiot but I would greatly appreciate any explanation as to why this happened today! TIA.

EDIT: If this goes no where and, somebody is inclined to repost on Superstonk please feel free, I don't have enough karma to post there
