I posted this, https://www.reddit.com/r/GME/comments/uojlrt/i_have_had_this_order_open_since_january_and_77/?utm_medium=android_app&utm_source=share.

I believe there is so many open buys around $75 we won't see it lower than that pre split. I am keeping my order open to help keep the pressure at $75. The day before the split I will cancel it because right now I would get 201 @ $75 for my $15k. After the split I will have another 5k to add and possibly have a $20 share price, now I have 1000 shares that will immediately go to CS. This is going to be a big problem for them because it looks like there is enough buy pressure at $75 to keep them at $77. That's a LOT of money just waiting, for 19 more days ■

We will lock up the newly increased float in CS even faster. ■■
