Hey guys! Hope you all had a good weekend. Decided to start a topic to discuss GME's relation to the market and the incoming crash we are gonna witness. My question is simple...

Is GME gonna do what everyone has been saying for months and months now. Its gonna do the opposite of the market right? Vix goes up, spy goes down and Gme goes brrrr...at least that's what's been said on here, Superstonk and other places. This has been the general thought on this. That's why we get all crazy when we see china crashing and why we track rrp's etc.

So now why am I seeing insane amounts of posts telling me the opposite now...I'm seeing stuff saying "Don't be alarmed if GME follows the market plummet". Or "be ready for gme to fall".... Umm bitch what? What happened to all the talk for 8 months about vix, spy, rrp, everything...that DD is just all a wash?

It's a little sus to me that all the sudden people are saying that GME is gonna crash too. Just makes me think of how massive a rug pull this could be. It could also be the worst possible scenario where they are crashing the whole economy to just keep gme down.

Anyways, I won't stop making topics like this to discuss these things until MOASS finally occurs. I think a discussion is needed on such an investment like this one and I for one am sick of getting lied to by "DD" then it being debunked and starting over. It's annoying and reckless.
