One is tracking the # of Computershare accounts per Ape.

It was found early on that some Apes were getting multiple computershare accounts setup for various reasons like transferring in from different brokers or even something as simple as changing their info in either their brokerage or Computershare accounts.

If you'd like to help get the bot updated so it can more accurately represent the owners then go back to your Purple circle post and add a comment like this:

!DRSBOT:CSx!

Replace the x with the number of computershare accounts you have hodling GME. I have 1 account, so mine is !DRSBOT:CS1!
