If there was ever a time to act, it was yesterday. The next best time is now! If you are an investor in GME and plan on having your vote for the annual shareholder meeting actually COUNT it is of EXTREME PERTINENCE that you DIRECTLY REGISTER your SHARES.

We all know the numbers from last year's shareholder meeting were questionable and I believe the numbers were the way they were because many investors votes were cast by proxy of a BROKER. If you are an investor that was here last year you remember your broker (R-hood, Toro, TD, etc) sent you material to cast your vote. I am here, however, to tell you that the vote you made via the material sent was never counted. Imagine casting your vote and it is sent straight to the ■ to be incinerated. All brokers exercised proxy and used your share vote as their own vote, which is why we did not get the outcome that we were all expecting last year.

Why would you want a third party to handle your vote when you can deal directly with the transfer agent of the company you are invested in?

Investors, in light of yesterday's 8K filing it is VITAL to GME that you DRS your shares and make your vote count in the fight for better financial markets!
